The Now-Legendary "Canned Author"

But these days, it's so rare for manga artists to do so that it's become something of a legend.

There's a strong perception that authors usually work while shutting themselves away from the world..

Moreover, having to prepare a workspace outside of the office ..

But now that manga artists almost never leave their own homes, it's lost all meaning.

Originally, the goal was to keep them from going outside and having fun..

IT'S ONLY FOR HIS OWN LEISURE.
